A Leader in LGBTQ Scholarly & Professional Publications

This book provides an overview of research and practice dealing with the specific needs of gay and bisexual men living with prostate cancer, as well as the special psychosocial needs of their partners.

The intention is twofold: to provide insight into the unique experiences and concerns of gay or bisexual men living with prostate cancer in order to inform and assist future research, clinical practice and supportive care, and policy; and to ensure that the needs of gay and bisexual men are recognized and advanced on the mainstream prostate cancer agenda.

Featuring both cutting-edge research and powerful portraits of gay and bisexual men living with prostate cancer, this book will be indispensable for health care, oncology, and mental health practitioners who seek to address their specific experiences and challenges.

ADVANCE PRAISE

“Required reading for urologists and oncologists who treat gay and bisexual men as well as for mental health practitioners. I would also recommend it to gay men contemplating treatment for prostate cancer and to their husbands and/or sexual partners as well.”

—Jack Drescher, MD, Clinical Professor of Psychiatry,
Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons

“The challenges for gay and bisexual men with prostate cancer have remained poorly described for years—until this book.”

—Anne Katz, Editor, Oncology Nursing Forum

“The definitive book covering the pioneering research that has helped make visible the specific needs and experiences of gay and bisexual men with prostate cancer.”

—Anthony Lowe, chief executive officer, Prostate Cancer
Foundation of Australia
